OUTLINES.

The Senate yesterday adopted both the Penrose and Foraker resolutions the first calling on the President and the latter on the Secretary of War for the particulars in connection with the dismissal of three negro companies from the army; in the course of the debate Senator Foraker declared that the race question was not involved but aserted that if a President could dismiss three companies of troops he could disband the whole army.—— Senator Morgan yesterday spoke three hours advocating the placing of the Panama railroad in the hands of the Canal Commission because it is now controlled solely by Lawyer Cromwell, of New York——The House yesterday defeated the pilotage bill which would have abolished compulsory pilotage at Southern and all other ports; a resolution was introduced calling for an investigation of the lumber trust——Hon. William J. Bryan, commenting on President Roosevelt's message declares that he boldly appropriates some Democratic doctrines; that portions of the paper are absurd and that the President backs and fills on many questions——The defense of Mrs. Birdsong for killing Dr. Butler in Mississippi will be emotional insanity because of claims that he had made concerning his relations with her.——In order to relieve the demand for small change Secretary Shaw advises National and State banks to send $10 silver certificates to the Treasury for silver dollars.——New York markets: Money on call strong 20 to 35 per cent; ruling 25; closing bid and offered at 35; spot cotton quiet 11 cents; flour steady but quiet; wheat firm, No. 2 red 80 1-2 elevator; corn steady, No 2 53 1-2 elevator; oats firm, mixed 38 1-2; turpentine steady 69 1-4 to 69 3-4; rosin steady.

With the Philippines as a handicap and so accessible to Japan, Uncle Sam is not in a position to bluster around in the usual fashion.

With regard to the ship subsidy President Roosevelt in his message makes a noise like a man who is not sure he is walking on solid ground.

"What shall we do with the wilful man—the man who is determined to have his own way?" inquires a magazine writer. If there is no other way of breaking him, he might be persuaded to try matrimony.

Charlotte is not only raising cain for some two or three more miles of earth to hold here where she tops over, but a pretty well settled plan for a 12-story building indicates that the Queen City wants more sky space.

Says the Athens (Ga) Banner: "Tillman has been condemned by the Chicago negroes, and Roosevelt has been condemned by the same crowd. The Rough Rider and the Pitchfork Statesman seem to be in the same boat." With Tillman and Roosevelt in the same boat there'll be a race to see who'll rock the boat.

Mr. W. W. Finley, the new president of the Southern Railway, is a Southern man, having been born at Pass Christian, Miss. He is about 54 years of age and J. Pierpont Morgan, financial controller of the Southern, regards him as one of the ablest railroad men in the country.

A Paris cablegram announces a rumor that Count Boni de Castellane, recently divoced by Mme Anna Gould, is to marry Mme. Letellier, who was divorced by two husbands—Baron de Forest, adopted son of multi-millionaire Hirsch, and Albert Menier, the millionaire "chocolate king." Mme. Letellier has a fortune of $15,000,000. As she has been through the divorce mill twice she wont run much risk in taking over Boni.

The Charlotte Chroicle makes this good suggestion: It is to be hoped the next Legislature will follow the lead of South Carolina and provide the means to get a department of immigration in this State and get some ship loads landed at Wilmington." The Star seconds the motion and would further suggest that members-elect of the Legislature examine the immigration laws and schemes of the several States so as to be prepared to give us the best in the shop.

MOTION DOCKET CALLED

Large Number of Unimportant Cases Went Off—Appeals in Railroad Matters—Suit Over Ownership of a $90 Horse—Other Matters.

The business of the present term of New Hanover Superior Court was completed yesterday evening by 6 o'clock and a recess was taken indefinitely. Judge E. B. Jones, who presided at the present term, will leave this morning for Kinston where he will hold court next week. There will be no court in New Hanover until the new year when a two-weeks criminal term will be held, Judge O. H. Guion, of Newbern, probably presiding by exchange with Judge Justice. Yesterday's session of the court was not interesting, the only case of any importance being that of a controversy between W. T. Mercer and the Wilmington Furniture Company, over the ownership of a horse. The jury found for the Wilmington Furniture Company, valued the horse at $90 and gave the Furniture Company a verdict of $60 damages. Hon. John D. Bellamy appeared for the furniture company and Messrs. Herbert McClammy and C. D. Weeks for Mr. Mercer. An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court.

The case of Capt. T. R. Debnam against the Angola Lumber Company was won by the last named, the plaintiff recovering nothing. Other cases and their disposition were as follows.

F. M. Bryant vs C. R. L. & P. Co; non suit.

B. M. Hill vs A. C. L. R. R. Co; judgment entered for $34.97, amount of wages.

Seley Mfg. Co. vs. J. C Shepard; judgment against defendant for costs.

D. L. Gore vs Smith & Lennon, non suit.

J. D. Bellamy et al vs Henry Green, decree.

J. W. English vs Fishblate Clothing Co.; judgment.

William Johnson vs Mrs. Susan E. Moore, non suit.

S. A. Parmele vs J. M. Bunting, order to make new parties defendant.

H. L. Vollers vs Cape Fear & People's Steamboat Co.; final order.

John Barry, admr. of Adolphus Merritt, deceased judgment according to compromise.

H. C. Green vs Henry McFarland, appointment of D R. Foster, receiver for certain real estate.

All the other cases on the docket were continued. Appeals were noted during the day in the cases against the Atlantic Coast Line tried during the earlier part of the week.

SEABOARD'S BIG BOND ISSUE.

Eighteen Millions for Improvements and Payment of Obligations.

Baltimore, Dec. 6.—Holders of the stock and voting-trust certificates of the Seaboard Air Line railway received official notification today of the plan of the company to issue $18,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds. The bonds are to be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust and collateral trust agreement covering the property of the company and such securities as the directors may deem advisable, and are to be due on February 1, 1937. It is proposed to use the bonds in paying off the three year 5s due next March and taking up the notes of the company, as well as to provide for future development of the property.

A meeting of the stock and voting-trust certificate holders has been called for January 10, 1907 to vote on the plan. It is proposed to issue early next year $7,300,000 of the bonds, and the holders of stock and voting-trust certificates of the Seaboard Air Line are to have the right of subscribing to the new issue at 90 and interest to the extent of 12 per cent of their holdings.

AT THE EXPOSITION

W. T. Sears & Co., of Wilmington Secure Another Large Contract For Lumber For the Buildings on The Grounds

Mr. W. T. Sears, of W. T. Sears & Co, returned last night from a business trip to Norfolk where he went to look after the large contracts his company has with the Jamestown Exposition Company for furnishing lumber for the giant buildings that are going up on the grounds. Mr. Sears is full of enthusiasm for the Exposition and says that few people hereabouts have any idea of the magnitude of the undertaking. The site of the Exposition, Mr. Sears says, is ideal. The water front is beautiful and great arrangements are being made for the crowds to see the great naval display that will be a feature of the Exposition. A great pier 1,000 feet in length and three times as wide has been projected to deep water and upon that thousands will be able to see the magnificent manoeuvers of Uncle Sam's fighting ships. Mr. Sears was on the grounds and says that all arrangements will be under way by the time the opening is announced. Over 7,000 men are now at work on the grounds.

While in Norfolk Mr. Sears secured another large contract for lumber for the buildings. His firm has just completed one contract for a million and a half feet and on this trip Mr. Sears secured an order for two and maybe three millions extra. This will be furnished from the mills of the firm at Wananish, Brinkley, Castle Haynes, Folkstone, Birdsville, and Sturgeon's Creek, in Brunswick county. Shipments will begin at once and all the contract will be delivered by January first.

ALDERMAN JOHNSON DEAD.

Passed Away at His Home This Morning at 4:45 O'Clock.

Alderman Edward F. Johson, who has been critically ill at his home, No. 10 North Ninth street, died this morning at 4:45 o'clock. The end came peacefully after a long suffering with paresis during the last days of which he had been unconscious. It was known yesterday that the end was very near and his death was expected at any moment during the afternoon and night.

Mr. Johnson was 50 years of age on the second of June the present year and had lived in Wilmington practically all his life. He was at the head of The Wilmington Peanut Co., and had been for several years prominent in the politics of the city and county, being at the time of his death chairman of the Water Commission of the city, the acknowledged leader of the movement for municipal ownership and a member of great power on the Board of Aldermen. He was a leading candidate for Mayor in the forthcoming election. Three years ago he was chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee and had always been an active worker in the ranks of the party. He leaves to mourn their loss his devoted wife, two sons and one daughter, the oldest of the children being Mr. Gordon Johnson. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

White Man Disappears.

John Millican, a white man about 50 years of age, has been missing from his home since Monday and his family are at a loss to know what has become of him. Mr. Millican has been employed in cutting timber on the Noble place just out of town and left home last Monday presumably for his work. He has not been seen or heard of since. Mr. L. M. Noble, of this city, by whom he was employed, went out to the place yesterday afternoon to see if anything could have befallen him in the way of a tree falling on him or the like, but was unable to find out anything as to his whereabouts. The family, consisting of wife and several children, is greatly distressed over his disappearance and would be glad of any information as to his whereabouts. It will be remembered that Mr. Millican was robbed some time ago and it is feared now that he has been dealt with foully and his body thrown into the creek.

FRUIT VESSEL HERE.

Annual Appearance of Cargo of Sweets From West Indies.

The annual appearance of the fruit vessel has been noted by the small boy. It arrived yesterday afternoon and it is the schooner Mabel Darling, 111 tons, Captain Saunders, from Kingston, Jamaica. She has cargo of bananas, oranges, cocoanuts and tomatoes fresh from the British West Indies. The schooner is tied up at the wharves of the Springer Coal Company to whom she is consigned and the cargo will be disposed of either at wholesale or retail, it has not yet been definitely decided. The Mabel Darling brings cargo of fruit here each season just before the holidays and it is always readily disposed of. The vessel will take back to the island a cargo of shingles and the like. The Mabel Darling is a British craft and enters at the Custom House, paying duty on the part of her cargo that arrives in good shape. The over-ripe fruit and that not entirely sound is dumped over the rail of the vessel by the government inspectors and it is always an interesting sight to see the small boys line the wharf and fish the specked fruit from the water.

GIANT PROPOSITION

Active Efforts on Foot For Greater Development of Wrightsville Resort.

WINTER AND SUMMER

Mr. T. B. Cotter Active Man in Great Pinehurst Enterprises, Here Looking Over the Field—Will Interest Banking People.

As the result of a quiet work which has been in progress three months or more, an active movement is about to be commenced for the development of Wrightsville Sound and Beach into not only a greater Summer resort but as a still greater resort for Winter tourists from all over the United States along lines that would meet the greatest expectations of the people of this city. At the head of the movement is Mr. T. B. Cotter, one of the best hotel and resort men in the country who for several years has been in active charge of the magnificent development at Pine Hurst, N. C. Mr. Cotter arrived in the city Monday and is a guest at The Orton. He will be here for several days yet, interesting the people of Wilmington and the various transportation lines in the great plans he has for the development of the resorts mentioned, over the possibilities of which he is enthusiastic and into which he is willing to put large capital, not only on his own account but for Eastern and Western men whom he is representing.

Mr. Cotter's attention was directed to Wrightsville Sound and Beach some time ago by Col. Walker Taylor of this city and he has come now to see what the people of Wilmington will do toward manifesting their faith in the movement and to ascertain just what are the possibilities here. The matter has been quietly considered by a number of Wilmington people during the week and Mr. Cotter will remain here for some days yet to attend a private meeting of the officers and directors of all Wilmington banks next Tuesday night. It will depend entirely upon how the people of Wilmington receive the proposition as to whether or not the movement will be prosecuted further. As outlined to a reporter last night by Mr. Cotter, the plans involve the expenditure of a large amount of money and it means that Wrightsville is to be developed into one of the most compplete resorts in the country.. Mr. Cotter says that it would embrace a series of hotels and cottages with complete utility plants; a casino, that in addition to the usual features, would have a large salt water swimming ppool; a country club, golf course, tennis courts, race track trap shooting, etc. A special feature would be a compplete system of baths, superior to any in the United States.

A development of this kind would prove the best possible agency in the development of the city of Wilmington as during the Winter it would attract thousands of people from the North and West and during the Summer equally as large numbers from the South and middle South. It was exactly these elements which so largely entered into the development of the great State of Florida, Norfolk and other coast cities that are now reaching metropolitan proportions.

The possibilities of Wrightville, Wilmington's most valuable asset, have long been recognized by the people of the city and it is earnestly to be hoped that the present plans will be carefully scrutinized and that it will be embraced upon the very liberal basis that is understood to be offered by Mr. Cotter. It was at first thought that the development should be to induce Summer travelers to come here, but Mr. Cotter ha found the splendid natural advantages for an all-year resort and has decided to adopt the greater undertaking. The meeting, which, it is understood will be held Tuesday night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, should be attended by the banking interests of the entire city.

—Mr. W. H. Stokley, formerly of this city but now holding a responsible position with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., at Birmingham, Ala., is in the city to spend a few days with family and friends.

LAND AS SECURITY FOR LOANS.

When Congress wants to enact legislation there is not much delay about it, as was illustrated in the passage of the bill by the House on Wednesday permitting National Banking associations to make loans on real estate as security and limiting the amount of such loans. Congress had been in session only three days when a measure of such far reaching importance was passed by a vote of 111 to 51. Very strong reasons were urged against the bill as it was feared it would open the way to wild cat banking, but the large majority for it clearly shows the temper of the House.

The dispatches giving us an account of the passage of the bill stated that the bankers in the House urged the passage of the bill, while the opponents of the measure insisted that real estate was not a proper security for national banks. They contended that the system had proved a failuure wherever tried.

Mr. DeArmond, of Missouri, thought the bill was bad legislation as it would tend to limit the power of the State banks. "Any man who has unincumbered real estate can get a loan at lower rate of interest from loaning companies than he can from a bank" he said.

Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, and Mr. Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, were enthusiastic in favor of the measure, urging that the bill would aid the farmers very greatly and have a tendency to reduce stock speculation.

Representative Hill, of Connecticutt, took the position that the bill had not been asked for by many national banks and expressed the opinion that it was a dangerous precedent to establish.

There has long been a demand for legislation making real estate proper security for money loans, but even though the House has passed the bill it is extremely doubtful whether the Senate will pass the measure. However, under proper safeguards real estate would, in many instances, be better security than a lot of so-called collateral upon which borrowers and schemers can get loans from National banks. We don ot know what are tre features of the House bill, but there is ground for a wide difference of opinion about it. Its support came from the Western Congressmen, Republicans and Democrats, and the action of the House shows that their constituents are back of them in their demands for it.

PRESIDENT WANTS MORE POWER

The Star's Washington dispatches on Wednesday night stated that President Roosevelt sent a special message to Congress on Wednesday uurging legislation giving Executive authority upon his own initiative and responsibility to dismiss any officer whom he thinks unworthy to remain in the service. The law at present provides that in time of peace no officer shall be dismissed except in pursuance of a court martial or in mitigation thereof. This provision the President wants repealed.

Illustrating the necessity for the legislation desired the President cites the case of a naval officer whose name is not given but who was accused of "indecent and disgusting behavior." He was convicted but the court, to his surprise, the President says, did not sentence him to dismissal.

The President also askes for " the repeal of article 37 for the government of the navy which in time of war practically subjects his right of dismmissal to review by court martial to be assembled within six months, if the accused officer demands this court."

We do not see how the President or any body else can read the constitution and then ask Congress to confer such powers as he suggests that body to give him by a legislative act. However desirable such power in a President might be, no act of Congress can take away a man's right to appeal to the courts. The courts may turn him down all right after he appeals, but it is clear that the wise framers of our gavernment aimed to prevent the posibility of one man's taking away the liberties, privileges and rights of any man. No American who is thoroughly imbued with the principles of free government should ask for such a power, especially as it is not in the power of Congress to grant it. The Supreme Court would very quickly declare such an act unconstitutional. The aim of our fathers in establishing this government was not to give absolute power to any man—President or not.

Held Up and Robbed.

—Greensboro, Dec., 5.—George Bittings, a seventeen year old white boy, while walking along the railroad track near the Etowah Cotton Mill, west of Pomona this morning was held up and robbed of his money by a negro. The young man was going to the store with $47 in his pocket to pay a bill for his father, the money being the proceeds of the sale of some tobacco made by the elder Bittings yesterday at Winston. The sheriff's office here was phoned and a deputy was sent out to try to find the robber. Young Bittings said he did not know the party but would recognize him on sight. The negro met him on the track and just as they passed each other the robber wheeled around, caught Bittings in the coat collar and as he turned found the barrel of a pistol in two inches of the center of his eyes. The negro evidently knew something of the mission of the young man and his possession of the money. As soon as the money is obtained, he made tracks backwards with the pistol drawn on Bitting, until he reached a clump of bushes, where his escape was made without observation or danger of being molested.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit. Mich.

How Emery Is Quarried.

Emery comes from the island of Naxos, in the eastern Mediterranean, whence it has been exported for the last two centuries or more. The beds are in the northeast of the island, the deposit descending into some of the neighboring islands, the emery being found in lenticular masses, resting on layers of schist in limestone, almost identical with Parian marble, the finest marble known, which comes from the island of Paros, close by. There are about 300 men engaged in the trade, all of whom have to be married before they are admitted to the fraternity. The material is much too hard to be dug out or even blasted. Great fires are lighted round the blocks till the natural cracks expand with the heat, and levers are then inserted to pry them apart.

This system is continued until the blocks are reduced in size to masses of a cubic foot or less, and they are then shipped as if they were coals. There are said to be 20,000,000 tons yet available at Naxos. It is one of the hardest substances yet known, coming next to the diamond, and among its crystalline forms known to the jewelers are the ruby and the sapphire.

Lighting a Pipe.

A smoker who started to light his pipe on the street turned to his companion and said: "A man told me the other day how to light an ordinary match in a high wind. Let me show you."

There was a stiff breeze blowing. The demonstrator took from his pocket an envelope, struck a parlor match on a rail and shielded it inside of the envelope, facing the wind as he did so. The match burned with hardly a flicker, and the man who held it puffed on his pipe with great satisfaction.

"That's a trick worth knowing," he remarked. "Here's another. Sometimes you get a spark on top of your pipe which the most vigorous puffing fails to spread over the surface of the tobacco. In that case take a piece of paper of almost any kind and hold it down in the spark. This will spread the fire and give you the sort of light a pipe smoker wants."—Providence Journal.

Raking Grass After Mowing.

Some persons advise raking after each mowing. I do not, because the clippings drop down into the grass and form a mulch, which I consider of great benefit. They also help to fertilize the soil. The lawn that is not mowed often enough will not look well after you have been over it with the mower, because there was growth enough to partially hide the sward upon which it falls. This will wither and turn brown in a day or two and greatly detract from the beauty of the lawn. But if you keep your lawn well mowed—and that means going over it at least three times a week in ordinary seasons—the amount clipped off at each mowing will be so slight that there will not be enough of it to show. Let the knife blades be set high enough to leave at least two inches of the foliage.—Outing Magazine.

The Coyote.

One of the most interesting wild animals is the prairie wolf, known in Mexico as the coyote and in the old world as the jackal. It is thirty-six to forty inches long, with a tail measuring sixteen to eighteen inches in length. The color is usually a dull, yellowish gray on the back and sides, with black cloudings. The underpart and inside of the limbs are of a dirty white tint. The voice is a sort of snapping bark, and for this reason the animal is known as the "barking wolf." It is found on the western plains, extending from Mexico to latitude 55 degrees north. It hunts in packs and is very fleet.

A Good Color.

Negroes use the same phrases they hear whites use, often with amusing application. This conversation, overheard in the streets of a southern city, is related in Lippincott's Magazine: "Howdy, Mis' Mandy? How is you?" called one dusky aunty to another. "Oh, I jes' tollable, Mis' Johnson. How you feelin'?" was the response. "Why, I's a-feelin' mighty peart, I is," confided Mrs. Johnson. "I suttenly does feel fine." "Wellum, yo' sho' is lookin' well," agreed her friend. "Yo' color's so good."

Proxy Husbands In Turkey.

Divorces are easy to obtain in Turkey, and a husband and wife may remarry three times. If they wish to marry a fourth time, the woman must go through the formality of marrying another man and then of being divorced. This custom has given rise to a curious profession—that of proxy husbands. Such men are generally blind and have no hesitancy in relinquishing their brides for a money consideration.

He Has.

"Pa, what does savoir faire mean?"

"Well, I don't know that I can explain it exactly, but the man who can look tickled and interested when somebody starts to tell a story that he has heard about twenty times before has it all right."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Poser.

"Please, pa," pleaded Bobby, "just one more."

"All right," said pa, closing his book.

"Well, say, pa," began Bobby, "who is going to bury the last man that dies?"

Not One of Them.

IT'S IN THE DRAFT.

The secret of the fuel-saving qualities of this Buck's hot blast heater lies in the draft construction. It is so made as to allow large quantities of heated air to pass over the upper surface of the burning coal, thus supplying oxygen to the rising gasses, which are then converted into heating power.

Simple, isn't it? And yet it's new principle in stove building—not to be found elsewhere.

This stove will reduce your coal bill nearly one-third.

Let us tell your of its many advantages.

THE SEABOARD FINED.

First Case Under Commission's Order —Young Man Killed.

(By Sou Bell Long Distance Phone.)

Raleigh, N. C., Dec., 6.—The Corporation Commission today instituted a suit against the Seaboard Air Line for $500 penalties for violation of the order recently issued requiring the proper bulletins of the arrival of trains. The suit is for the improper bulleting of a train at Lumberton during November. The complainants are John Gilchrist McCormick, Esq., of Lumberton; J. D. Conner, of Rich Square, N. C.; J. D. Hersch, of Atlanta. The Commission says that this is the only instance in which it has been furnished with proof in which the witnesses were in the jurisdiction of the State Courts. The case will be tried in Wake Superior Court

A runaway horse this morning ran over and fatally injured W. A. Strunckel, a young plumber who was riding along West Hargett street on a bicycle. He died within an hour. The same horse dashed wildly down Fayetteville street and several had narrow escapes. One year ago this horse ran away and killed James O. Litchford, cashier of the Raleigh Savings Bank A strange coincidence is that both accidents occurred almost in front of an undertaking establishment.

SOUTHERN'S BIG ACCIDENT.

Investigation Discloses Responsibility But Findings Withheld.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Dec., 6.—Investigation into the causes of the disastrous wreck on the Southern Railway Thanksgiving morning by which President Samuel Spencer lost his life, is being continued by officers of the Southern. It is not probable the inquiry will be concluded before tomorrow afternoon, if then, and no statement of the findings will be made until all the witnesses have been examined. It is stated that the examination thus far had thrown considerable light on the accident and it is believed the responsibility could be fixed with practical certainty. No intimation was given, however, of the nature of the facts already developed or of the identity of the persons on whom the responsibility may be fixed.

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Bells, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The sweling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." Best salve in existence. 25c at R. R. Bellamy's druggist.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the lecture room of the First Baptist Church.

—The regular monthly social meeting of Grace Epworth League will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

—A farmers' institute will be held at Bolivia, Brunswick county, on December 14. State Horticulturist W. N. Hutt, T. B. Parker of the Farmers' Alliance; State Entomologist Franklin Sherman, Jr., and others will speak.

—A horse stable at the plant of the Hilton Lumber Company was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. A valuable horse belonging to one of the employes of the company was so badly injured that it will have to be killed.

While on her way to the lightship the steamer Nellie B. Dey, Capt. E. H. Adkins, encountered a monster whale just off Frying Pan. Capt. Adkins says the whale was at least 75 feet long and as broad as the width of the steamer Dey. He fired on the monster three times with a Springfield rifle, but it did not phase him and he followed the boat for some distance.

—A telegram was received yesterday morning conveying to members of the family here the sad news of the death of Mrs. John W. Rodgers, of Baltimore, mother of Mrs. O. L. Brown, of Wilmington. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left last night to attend the funeral. Only a short time ago Mrs. Brown lost a brother by death and the blow is a very sad one for her. She has the sympathy of friends in her bereavement.

THE EAGLES' CARNIVAL.

Arrangmements Under Way The Voting Contest Results.

Arrangements for the merry Eagles' Carnival in this city are all completed and the committee is now resting on its oars so to speak, awaiting the arrival of the attractions of the Barkoot Amusement Company, which are said to be the best offered in the South this season. The greatest interest is being manifested in the two popular voting contests that have been inaugurated for the week. The committee last night announced the result of the voting contest up to date as follows for the most popular young lady: Miss Mamie McGirt 693; Miss Mae Gallowy, 688; Miss Bessie Sears 551; Miss Bessie Gore, 561; Miss Allie Pridgen, 542; Miss Lillian Knight, 441.

The name of Alderman E. F. Johnson has been withdrawn from the contest for the most popular candidate for Mayor by request. The vote for the other candidates is as follows at the close of the balloting last night:

A. M. Waddell ..... 406
Wm. E. Springer ..... 392
P. Q. Moore ..... 351

The vote will not be declared before Saturday and perhaps Monday night and the friends of several candidates are advised to "get busy."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Chamber of Commerce of Raleigh has issued a sixteen page pamphlet illustrating the growth and opportunities in Raleigh. It was liberally illustrated and gives valuable information concerning the city.

—Winston-Salem, Dec., 5.—Mr. Howard Moser, aged 23, was killed yesterday three miles from Farmington, in Davie county, by a tree falling on him. Mr. Moesr and another man were felling trees, when the accident occurred. Mr. Moser's colaborer was injured by the same tree, but will recover.

—Rockingham, Dec., 5.—Cary Quick and Lovely Knight, charged with the murder of Jule Combs, the notorious line blind tiger, surrendered themselves and were given a hearing before Esquire W. F. Long last Friday. The cases against Lovely Knight and Eb Quick were dismissed. Cary Quick was committed to jail. The evidence tended to show that he was being assaulted by the deceased when he fired the fatal shots.

—Salisbury, Dec., 5'—Hile McHenry, colored, died today at Cleveland from the effects of a load of shot fired into his body by Scott Phifer a notorious blockader in the northern part of Rowan county. The two men quarrelled prior to the shooting, but as there were no eye-witnesses the real cause of the killing is not known. Phifer is a desperate character and has been bound over twelve times. He has been bound over for a hearing before Justice Roseboro, at Cleveland.

—Fayeteville, Dec., 5.—Hiram Bryant, a venerable citizen of Beaver Dam township, is 97 years old, having been born in 1809. He cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson in 1832, and has been voting the straight Democratic ballot ever since, never scratching his ticket and putting in a "plumper" on the 6th of November last. Yesterday Mr. A. S. Hall addressed the Democratic county executive committee in tribute of Mr. Bryant, stating that his friends would present to him a handsome mahogany rocking chair for the better easement of his aged form, beside the ingle-nook in the evening of life.

—Elizabeth City Economist—Mr. Henry Sikes, wife and children, of Columbia, N. C., are in the city, visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Sykes is the gentleman whose phenominal case was recorded in the Economist some time ago, which account evoked only smiles of incredulity on the part of the people and the press of the State. One of Mr. Sykes' legs, after months of torture to Mr. Sykes, on the 2nd day of last February amputated itself, and actually dropped off without the use of knife or the assistance of a surgeon. Since then Mr. Sykes has regained his health and is today practically a well man, and is in the city with his wife and children. Those doubting the truth of this strange case can easily see Mr. Sykes and have the facts verified.

—Washington, Dec. 5.—The conduct of the North Carolina Federal officeholders whose brazen efforts to run the politics of the State were so vigorously rebuked by the people last November are to be made the subject of investigation by the administration. The indications are that this inquiry is to be a searching one, and if it is, which there is no reason to doubt, several officeholders in the State will be fired out of the public service. The civil service commission has voluntarily announced its determination to take up at once the charges preferred against Tar Heel Federal appointees by Senator Simmons, which he has backed up with a big array of facts.

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR:

AND WE CAN PROVE IT

Testimonial No. 422.

MISS JEANETTE WALLICE,
343 W. 14TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a gummy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and no time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow unusually long, strong and beautiful. One 25 cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists, three sizes, 25c., 50c. & $1.00 per bottle. KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago.

BEGINNING DECCMBER 1ST.

Our terms are changed from "Cash on Approval," to "Cash on Delivery." For over six years we have done a strictly cash business, charging no goods on account. We are therefore the better enabled to give our customers the very best value possible for their money. Almost daily we hear some one say to us:. "We get better shoes here than from anywhere we have been.". This unsolicited commendation is very gratifying to us, and inspires us with zeal and determination to do better things for our customers and ourselves.

We earnestly ask our patrons and friends to think kindly of the movement inaugurated by the SHOE DEALERS' ASSOCIATION of this city, for the betterment of trade conditions; remembering that Wilmington is no longer a little town, but a growing, hustling, bustling city. A new era has suddenly dawned upon us, bringing us face to face with new and suddenly changed conditions, relegating obsolete customs to the puny past. These conditions have to be met as best we can. Let us stand together therefore and meet them squarely and deal with them justly, and we believe great good will follow, and no hardships will be laid upon any one.

OUR LINES OF SPLENDID SHOES ARE FULL.
A FULL LINE OF NICE PREMIUMS.

THE COTTON MARKET.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Dec., 6.—The cotton market was quiet today with fluctuations comparatively narrow. Sales were estimated 150,000 bales and prices closed steady at a decline of one point to an advance of two points. The opening was steady at unchanged to an advance of 3 points which was considered a little better than due on the cables and during the early session prices wonked higher on covering and some buying attracted by bullish private estimates of the amount of cotton ginned to Dec. 1. January touched 10.23, and March 10.39 on these reports, but beyond the covering of scattered shorts and some little Wall stret buying there seemed to be no demand of consequence, and the list later eased off under scattering liquidation with trading in the afternoon almost at a standstill. Just before the close the market worked off under room selling.

Receipts at the ports today 67,093 bales against 55,728 last week and 43,401 last year. For the week 380,000 bales against 387,809 last week and 291,920 last year. Today's receiptps at New Orleans 15,881 bale against 9,020 last year, and at Houston 17,078 bales against 13,203 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 11; middling gulf 11.25; sales 13,600 bales; futures closed steady.

Webster's Retainer.

One day a man entered Daniel Webster's office and consulted him in regard to a prospective lawsuit. At the close of the conference he paid the attorney a retainer of $100 to look after the matter. Upon returning to his place of business he found that his partner had already settled the suit, obtaining the sum demanded without an attorney. He thought $100 was altogether too much for an office fee, so he dispatched his clerk to look after the subject.

"Mr. Webster," said the young man, "my employer thinks you should return a part of your retainer. That case has been settled."

"Young man," said the lawyer, "you go back and tell your employer that a retainer is something to be retained."

Curing a Pampered Pet.

A very clever veterinary had a system all his own. When he received an overfed toy dog he would consign him to a disused brick oven with a crust of bread, an onion and an old boot. When the dog began to gnaw the bread the anxious mistress was informed that her darling was "doing nicely." When it commenced operations on the onion word was sent that the pet was "decidedly better," but when the animal tackled the boot my lady was gratified to hear that her precious pet was "ready to be removed."—Woman's Home Companion.

How It Started.

"Talk about human beings having descended from such as you!" exclaimed Poll. "They're much more likely to have evolved from birds. You can't speak their language, and I can."

"I don't deny," responded Jocko, "that they got their long tongues from your family."

It was then that the two had their celebrated monkey and parrot time.—Chicago Tribune.

A French View of Englishmen.

To an American a Frenchman is a waxed mustachio and extraordinary stovepipe hat. In "Chaine Anglaise" the French idea of an Englishman is given. He speaks French with a shocking accent, ends every sentence with "all right" and when he is introduced to a woman does not remove his cap from his head or his pipe from his mouth.

Graft on a Family Tree.

Guest (at anniversary dinner)—You belong to one branch of the host's family, I believe. Poor Relation—Yes; I belong to the branch that never had any plums on it.—Tit-Bits.

In Trade.

Miss Gusher—That is Lord Noodlehedd. He made his money in trade.

Miss Slusher—What line?

Miss Gusher—Matrimonial. He traded his title for an heiress.

All serious souls are better believers in immortality than we can give grounds for.—Emerson.

GREAT POWERS OF PRESIDENT

Senate Discusses Mr. Roosevelt's Discharge of Three Negro Companies From Army

FORAKER SPOKE HIS MIND

Declared That President Could Dismiss Whole Army If He Could Three Companies—House Defeats Pilotage Bill.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Dec. 6.—The Senate to-day adopted the Penrose resolution requesting the President to send it information regarding the discharge of the negro troops of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and also the Foraker resolution directing the Secretary of War to transmis all information in the possession of his Department on the same subject. Both resolutions carried an identical amendment by Mr. Culberson, asking specifically for an the troops which directed him not to the toops, which directed him not to turn over to the Texas authorities certain of the troops demanded. This action followed a debate of two hours and was taken without a roll call or opposing vote. The debate developed along two distinct lines, one as to the propriety of asking the President for information or of directing the Secretary of War to furnish it and the other an indulgence by a few Senators in comment on the merits of the case.

Among the speakers were Messrs. Spooner, Tillman and Culberson. Mr. Carter spoke in support of the resolution calling on the President for information. This was emphasized by Mr. Penrose, who said that he had introduced his resolution in the interest of a large negro population in Pennsylvania, and had addressed it to the President because the action had been by the President and he regarded it as a matter of courtesy to ask him for the information.

Mr. Foraker read from the testimony furnished by the War Department. He said it appeared that murder, misprison of felony and perjury had been committe by some one—three crimes, for the punishment of any one of which the constitution secured to every man the right of trial before punishment. He did not regard it from the standpoint of the race question. The right of the President to dismiss a man from the army was also involved. If he could dismiss a man he could dismiss a company, a regiment, a brigade, and in fact on the same theory the whole army. Mr. Foraker admitted, at the suggestion of Mr. Warren, that the President under the law had the right to increase or decrease the army within certain miximum and minimum limits.

During the debate, the report was current among Senators that the President felt that it would be a matter of courtesy if the resolution should be addressed to himself, and so strong, it was said, was this feeling on his part that he had intimated that unless this course was taken there would be no response.

Senator Morgan Speaks.

Senator Morgan addressed the Senate to-day for two hours on his resolution looking to giving the Panama Canal Commission control of the Panama Railway.

Mr. Morgan spoke of the Panama road as a legal fictition or an artificial entity to enable this country to avoid its responsibility as a common carrier." If Congress should enact a law requiring the tearing up of the Panama Railroad, Mr. Morgan said, no creditors could enjoin such a destruction. Mr. Morgan maintained that Mr. Cromwell, whose several connections with the Panama government and the Canal Commission he enumerated, was the only one who benefitted by this manner of managing the road. "It gives Cromwell absolute control of the road as if he was its sole owner." he declared. He predicted that the canal would not be biult in 25 years, and advocated putting the railroad under the control of the Canal Commission, although with the control of the President exercised over this commission, he said, "Any wild, arrogant man who happens to be President could inflict incalculable injury to the country." No action was taken on the resolution.

Want Lumber Trust Investigated.

Senator Kittridge introduced a resolution directing an investigation by the Department of Commerce and Labor into the lumber trade of the country to ascertain whether there is in existence a trust or agreement among dealers.

A term of six years for the President and Vice President of the United States, is proposed by Senator Cullom in a joint resolution introduced, providing for an amendment to the Constitution. The resolution declares also that the President and Vice President shall not be eligible for re-election.

The Senate in executive session today confirmed a large number of appointments to consular, postoffice and other positions. Among the nominations confirmed, was that of Herbert G. Squiers, of New York, to be minister to Panama

The Senate adjourned until Monday.

House Defeats Pilotage Bill.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The House by a vote of 110 to 164 today defeated the bill of Representative Littlefield, of Maine, removing discrimination against American sailing vessels in the coasting trade. Thi bill commonly known as the anti-compulsory pilotage bill, has been the subject of many hearings in the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and has excited great interest throughout the lake and ocean shipping sections of the country.

The result of the vote was a surprise to the friends of the measure who openly charged its defeat to the American Federation of Labor. Many votes on the Republican side, however, were secured as a protest against the invasion of the rights of the States.

The delegation from California, as well as representatives from other western States, saw in the bill an opportunity to file a protest against restricting the rights of States to deal with the pilotage question at first hand and they availed themselves of the opportunity to go upon record.

Mr. Sherley, of Kentucky, said the bill was drawn in the interest of the North Atlantic ports and to the hurtfulness of the pilotage business in Southern ports. Mr. Fordney, of Michigan, said he did not know whether labor organizations had endorsed the bill or not, but he stood for the justice and the merit of the bill without regard to labor organizations. Mr. Littlefield, in charge of the bill, hearing labor organizations mentioned, remarked: "That makes me a little tired; I have heard that word before."

Mr. Small, of North Carolina, said he understood labor was opposed to the bill and characterized the pilots as veritable nabobs, and said "surely the pilots have no claim on the friends of labor."

Speaking of Mr. Littlefield, Mr. Lamar, of Florida, remarked it was rather singular that this bill, which is opposed by labor, should come so swiftly before Congress after its convening, fathered by a gentleman who has just gotten out of a serious collision with laboring men.

Mr. Minor, of Wisconsin, characterized the present pilotage law as one of the worst species of "graft" in the country.

Mr. Littlefield remarked that a pernicious system had grown up in Mississippi ports wherein discrimination was made against Maine coastwise vessels favor of vessels from other ports. This Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, indignantly denied.

Color and Aroma of Coffee.

There are two things which people imagine are guides to the goodness of coffee which are really of no consequence whatever. They are the color of the decoction and the aroma of the coffee when ground or as it escapes from the pot in drawing. The color is due almost entirely to the roasting. This is true also of tea. The finest coffees and teas, when properly roasted and prepared, to give out their finest flavors will color the water but little. The real essences which give the flavor have practically no color.

Mixed.

A professor at one of the Australian universities recently informed his class that "the darkest hour in the day is in the middle of the night at 3 o'clock in the morning." On another occasion the same professor made his apology for the intricacies of a statement by adding, "I can't give you an easier explanation without making it more difficult."

To Make It Tender.

"Waiter!" called the customer in the restaurant where an orchestra was playing.

"Yes, sah."

"Kindly tell the leader of the orchestra to play something sad and low while I dine. I want to see if it won't have a softening influence on this steak."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

His Ambition.

Father—My son, do you know that most of the rich men of today began poor? Small Son—Yes, sir. Father—And yet, instead of saving your pennies, you spend them. Small Son—Yes, sir. When I start out I want to begin poor.

A Stronger Word.

"But, really, now," asked Miss Gusch, "don't you think Mr. Kidder has a delicate wit?"

"It's more than delicate," replied Mr. Chellus; "it's sickly."—Philadelphia Press.

Her Temperament.

"Miss Posey was very warm in expressing her feelings against you."

"Oh, that explains why her manner was so cool."—Baltimore American.

HON WM. J. BRYAN ON THE MESSAGE

Says President Roosevelt Boldly Appropriates Some of Doctrines of Democracy.

PARTS OF MESSAGE ABSURD

Nebraskan Says President Takes Water on Some Questions—He Retreated From Ground Already Taken—Is Too Warlike.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 6.—Commenting on President Roosevelt's message, W. J. Bryan said there was much that was good and much that was bad in it, but it may be regarded as the President's most important paper. Mr. Bryan says:

"The message contains much that is Democratic and for which the general public may well thank him. It contains some things that ought to arouse severe criticism. The President boldly appropriates some of the doctrines which the Democrats have been advocating and on the other hand, he announces some doctrines which are so absurd as to excite amusement if the suggestions came from a less prominent source. In some cases he takes advanced ground in some cases he retreats from ground already taken."

Mr. Bryan complains that what the President says on government by injunction will not be satisfactory to the laboring men or to those who respect the right of trial by jury. The President's stand on child labor, the eight hour law and the right of the people to criticise a judge is commended.

On President Roosevelt's reference to the Japanese question Mr. Bryan says:

"He pays a deserved tribute to the progress of the Japanese nation and asks for legislation which will enable Congress to protect the treaty rights of foreigners. That there should be such legislation, cannot be generally disputed, but a great deal depends upon the character of the legislation. If any bills are presented in regard to this suggestion they must be carefully scrutinized lest they deny to the States the right to protect themselves and their people in matters purely local."

Finally Mr. Bryan deplores what he calls the President's warlike attitude. He says: "There will be general disappointment at the war-like tone of his message where he discusses the army and navy. He speaks of the navy as the surest guarantee of peace which this country possesses. Shame upon the Chief Executive that he should place an instrument of brute force above the nation's sense of justice as a guarantor of peace. The best guarantor of peace is our nation's principle to deal justly with other nations. War ought to be a last resort, not a first consideration. It is bad enough to have a few professional soldiers. It is not necessary that the whole nation shall be keyed up all the time to the fighting point."

Lord Kelvin's Bravery.

Lord Kelvin once performed a daring experiment before a class of students. In the course of his lecture he said that while a voltage of 3,000 or so would be fatal to a man a voltage of some 300,000 would be harmless. He was going to give a practical illustration on himself, but the students cried out, "Try it on a dog!" Lord Kelvin cast a look of reproach at his class. "Didn't I figure it out myself?" he said quietly, as he walked to the apparatus and safely turned the tremendous voltage into himself.

Chinese Cologne.

The Chinese ladies have an odd kind of cologne—that is to say, they constantly have upon their person a small bag of sweet smelling gum similar to that which was used by the ancient Egyptian women. Numerous costly jars recently unearthed at Pyramida contain the cosmetics and perfumes which were used by Egyptian princesses, all of which bear a resemblance to those in vogue today among Chinese ladies of the highest rank.

Sorry He Spoke.

He—I'd like to know what enjoyment you can find in going from store to store looking at things you haven't the least idea of buying. She—I know I can't buy them, but there is a sort of melancholy pleasure in thinking that I could have bought them if I had married George Scads when I had the chance, instead of taking you.

Coldly Described.

"So you don't envy any of the world's men of genius?"

"No," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I admire them, but I don't envy 'em. A genius is a man who gets a monument after he's dead instead of three square meals a day while he's living."—Washington Star.

She Was Stout.

"Do you remember how you used to put your arm round my waist when we were engaged, ten years ago? You never do it now."

"No; my arm has not grown any longer."
